

We live in a remote mountain area in central Colorado. Translator stations are very important here for television and radio. KLOVE is a much higher quality station than our local stations. Please don't shut it off!